INTRODUCTION

Moshane Group Limited is a Zambian incorporated private limited company established on 1 April 2022, providing high-level business consultancy and international supply chain management services across Zambia and the Democratic Republic of Congo.

The company is positioned as a strategic advisory and supply partner, operating where structured thinking meets operational execution. While firmly rooted in the local market, our consultancy framework is designed to meet international standards of governance, financial discipline, and operational excellence.

We function as a structured bridge between demand and supply, linking clients to a vetted network of manufacturers, distributors, and specialized service providers. However, our value is not limited to facilitation. We bring analytical depth, strategic oversight, and measurable accountability to every engagement. Our mandate is clear: to connect strategy with supply, and to do so with precision, integrity, and demonstrable impact.

ABOUT US

Moshane Group Limited operates at the convergence of business strategy, procurement intelligence, and industrial supply execution. Our primary focus is business consultancy, supported by a strong and dependable general supply and industrial procurement division that reinforces operational continuity for our clients.

Within mining, manufacturing, construction, and related industrial sectors, we provide advisory services that elevate institutional performance and strengthen decision-making structures. Our consultancy approach reflects global best practices in financial planning, supply chain strategy, organizational development, and operational optimization. Each solution is carefully structured to improve efficiency, mitigate risk, and enhance long-term competitiveness.

At the same time, we maintain a solid local procurement and supply presence. Our General Supply and Industrial Procurement division ensures that strategic recommendations are supported by practical implementation. We understand that operational success requires more than advice. It requires dependable materials, compliant sourcing, and disciplined logistics coordination.

Our role extends well beyond transactional engagement. We conduct system-wide assessments, align stakeholder objectives with operational realities, strengthen governance controls, and ensure full compliance with statutory and regulatory frameworks in both Zambia and the Democratic Republic of Congo. Every solution is designed to be commercially viable, operationally sustainable, and aligned with internationally recognized standards of quality and accountability.

Leadership remains central to our strength. The company is guided by a management team whose combined expertise forms the strategic backbone of our operations:

- Milumbe Mumbuluma, Director of Operations, holds a Master of Science in Procurement and Logistics and a Bachelor of Science in Procurement. Her technical specialization drives our supply chain architecture, procurement governance, and operational systems management.
- Aubrey Mofya Mulopa, General Manager, holds a Diploma in Banking and Finance, a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration, and a Certificate in Business Management. His leadership reinforces our financial oversight, strategic growth planning, and stakeholder engagement frameworks.

Together, their complementary expertise in procurement, finance, and business management ensures that Moshane Group Limited operates with both analytical depth and operational precision.

MESSAGE FROM THE LEADERSHIP

At Moshane Group Limited, we share a fundamental belief: sustainable success is engineered. It is built through structure, discipline, and unwavering commitment to ethical leadership.

From the outset, our objective was not simply to trade goods or provide isolated advisory services. Our intention was to establish a firm that integrates international-standard consultancy with dependable local supply execution. A firm capable of strengthening institutions, optimizing supply chains, and contributing meaningfully to regional industrial advancement.

As Director of Operations and General Manager, we approach every engagement with a unified strategic vision. We combine operational rigor with financial prudence. We uphold transparency and accountability in every transaction. And we measure performance not by volume of activity, but by the quality and durability of the outcomes achieved.

We understand the complexity of the environments in which our clients operate. Mining, manufacturing, and industrial sectors demand reliability, compliance, and structured decision-making. They require solutions that perform under pressure and deliver value beyond immediate results. This understanding informs our continuous improvement culture and shapes the standards to which we hold ourselves.

Our commitment is deliberate and enduring: to act as a trusted advisory and supply partner, to uphold integrity without compromise, and to build systems that create measurable and lasting value.

OUR SERVICES

At Moshane Group Limited, our service offering is structured around a simple but demanding principle: every organization deserves systems that work and supplies that arrive when they should, in the condition they should, and at the value they should.

We do not separate strategy from execution. Advisory without implementation often remains theory. Supply without structure often leads to inefficiency. Our services are therefore designed to integrate thinking and delivery into one coherent solution.

GENERAL SUPPLY & INDUSTRIAL PROCUREMENT

In mining and industrial environments, supply reliability is not a convenience. It is a necessity. Delays, substandard materials, or procurement inefficiencies can disrupt entire operations.

Our General Supply and Industrial Procurement division is structured to provide comprehensive, dependable, and cost-effective sourcing solutions across Zambia and the Democratic Republic of Congo. We operate through a vetted supplier network, ensuring quality assurance, compliance, and consistent availability of critical materials.

Our supply portfolio includes:

- Mining and industrial equipment and spares
- Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)
- One Ton Bags
- Wire strippers and electrical components
- Hardware and construction materials
- Lubricants including gear oil and engine oil
- Valves, pumps, and gearboxes
- Safety and security products such as strappings and seals
- Bits, rods, and other industrial consumables

Our procurement systems are built on three pillars:

1. Quality Assurance – All products are sourced from verified manufacturers and distributors, ensuring conformity to industry standards.
2. Cost Efficiency – Strategic supplier relationships allow us to deliver competitive pricing without compromising quality.
3. Timely Delivery – Coordinated logistics planning ensures materials arrive when required, minimizing downtime and operational disruption.

We do more than supply goods. We manage procurement risks, streamline sourcing processes, and ensure continuity in demanding operational environments.

SUPPLY AND INSTALLATION OF FIRE SUPPRESSION SYSTEMS

In industrial and commercial environments, fire risk is more than a regulatory issue. It is a strategic threat that can endanger lives, interrupt operations, damage assets, and weaken institutional credibility. Effective fire protection must therefore be engineered, structured, and proactive.

Moshane Group Limited provides professional supply and installation of fire suppression systems designed to safeguard life, infrastructure, and operational continuity. Our approach combines technical precision, regulatory compliance, and risk-based system design to ensure dependable performance under critical conditions.

Our services include:

- System assessment and risk evaluation
- Design and specification of appropriate suppression solutions
- Supply of certified fire suppression equipment
- Professional installation in line with recognized safety standards
- Testing, commissioning, and performance verification
- Maintenance planning and technical support

We operate in compliance with Zambian safety regulations and internationally recognized fire protection standards, ensuring durability, functionality, and full regulatory alignment. Our solutions may incorporate automatic or manual systems, including detection mechanisms, control panels, suppression agents, and integrated piping networks, selected according to operational risk profiles.

Beyond installation, we prioritize long-term system reliability through structured inspections and preventive maintenance programs. We do not simply supply equipment. We implement engineered protection frameworks that form an integral part of a client's overall safety and operational strategy.

HARDWARE SUPPLY

Construction and industrial projects depend on dependable materials. Even the smallest component, if substandard, can compromise safety, timelines, and structural integrity.

Our Hardware Supply division provides a comprehensive range of materials and protective equipment to support industrial, mining, and construction activities. Every product supplied is selected with durability, compliance, and performance in mind.

Our offerings include:

- Pipes and fittings
- Protective gear including hard hats, boots, and overalls

- All types of Zambian cement

We partner with reputable manufacturers and distributors to ensure that all hardware materials meet recognized safety and quality standards. Through structured inventory management and supplier coordination, we help clients maintain operational continuity while safeguarding workplace safety.
